Fund new school in Madison

By WALTER F. STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

At 1 p.m. Thursday, Illinois Governor James R. Thompson signed the release of $1,976,164 for construction of a new Madison middle school.

After signing the approval request from the Capital Development Board (CDB), the governor handed the Madison school district's copy to State Senator Sam Vadalabene, who was with Thompson for the signing.

Sen. Vadalabene telephoned word of the official release of funds to Madison Superintendent of Schools John Palcheff.

Vadalabene then delivered the approval notification to school authorities in Madison at 11 a.m. Friday.

Madison's share of the cost of the school has risen from an initial projection of $800,000 to $846,927, officials said. The state also took cost escalation into account in setting its contribution.

Accumulated interest on the $800,000 approved in a bond issue election Sept. 25, 1975, will take care of Madison's increased costs in constructing the school.

The new 649-student, single-story middle school (sixth, seventh and eighth grades) will be built on a 12.27-acre site about three blocks north of Madison High School, east of Farish Street on Caine Drive.

Architects have notified school authorities that they will

College promotes Wissore

Belleville Area College deliberations came to the Quad-Cities Thursday evening, when trustees of Community College District 522 conducted a monthly business meeting at the Granite City Board of Education office.

A chief issue decided was the promotion of Bruce Wissore, assistant to President William Keel, to vice-president for executive services on a 4-3 vote.

By a 5-2 margin, the board decided to increase his yearly salary from $20,730 to $23,800.

Trustee Mearl Justus said he would prefer continuing with three vice-presidents rather than four. He assailed the way faculty negotiations were handled prior to an agreement reached in January.

Joining him in opposing the title change were Milton Smith and Mrs. Martha Sauer. Favoring the promotion were Chairman Curt E. Edkert, Robert Dintelman, Edward O'Malley and John Becker.

Justus praised Wissore in his comments for inclusion in the board minutes, elaborating on his negative votes.

He later said he feels such an advancement for a relatively young administrator might create morale problems for "deans and doctors" at BAC.

The board tabled two requests

Pro, con of solar energy

By VIRGINIA KNAUER

The dream of capturing energy directly from the sun is as old as man himself.

Now that day has arrived. Perhaps no new energy technology has caught the imagination of consumers as much as solar energy.

To help you find out if solar is right for you, the Office of Consumer Affairs (OCA) and the Federal Energy Administration (FEA) have published a booklet called Buying Solar.

It gives basic information on how a solar system works and helps to answer some of the major questions a consumer should ask before purchasing a system, including:

1. Is solar suitable for my house?

According to the booklet, solar energy is not right for everyone's house.

First, there has to be enough space to handle the system's collector and storage units.

Another important concern is having a soundly insulated house.

If you are losing heat because of poor insulation, it is more economical to save heat through better insulation than by adding heat through a solar system.

2. Is solar a worthwhile investment?

Your initial costs will be higher than the cost of using — in the case of a house, renting — gas or electricity.

But once the system is paid for, you will have free energy coming into your home.

Besides answering these and other questions, Buying Solar suggests that consumers thinking of buying a solar

Bulk of valuation rise may be local

A tentative property assessment multiplier of 1.0503 was issued Friday by John Castle, director of the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs.

Rapid growth in property values, including home prices, has triggered unprecedentedly severe state action to equalize assessments between the 102 counties and also to keep them near the mandated one-third of "full, fair cash value" as reflected by actual sales. Some county multipliers this year are as high as 4.7000.

A state-ordered county multiplier is in addition to any township multipliers set at the county level.

Granite City's proposed 1.0800 figure when subjected to a 1.0503 county multiplier would reach 1.13424. Even higher figures are under discussion at Edwardsville regarding Granite City—totaling over 1.20 or a one-fifth rise.

Valuations of individual parcels of property are combined to produce a particular taxing district's aggregate valuation. Tax levies are applied to the total in order to determine the necessary rates. The resulting rates then are applied against individual assessments in preparing tax bills.

Higher or multiplied valuations do not automatically raise taxes, since lower rates are determined if applied to larger assessment bases to produce the same levies.

However, in some cases more taxes are levied by agencies than could normally be raised with existing rate limits; when the base brows, inflated levies and at-the-limit rates can provide bigger collections than before.

An added $45 million is being sought in Madison County assessments.

Some of the figures being voiced, however, indicate that an increase of more than that amount may occur in the Quad-City area alone, in effect putting the entire brunt of state-encouraged Madison County assessment escalation on the shoulders of the local community.

James Barton, county supervisor of assessments, is blaming Granite City, Edwardsville and other townships for falling behind the growth in actual property values in the valuations recorded on their books.

In addition to 1.08 for Granite City, he has set 1.10 for Edwardsville and says he is considering 1.04 for Nameoki Township.

In addition, there has been talk of Madison County Board of Review multipliers on top of those designated by Barton and prior to application of a state-set multiplier.

The net effect of single, double or triple multipliers in various townships could be massive assessment increases in some instances, it is being contended.

Barton says his actions have been based on 1975 data and the board may consider newly-available 1976 statistics.

He has conceded that multipliers have an effect of intensifying the unfairness on currently differing valuations within a township. Many homes are being properly assessed without multipliers, but still are to be subjected to multipliers, he relates.

Undervalued lots and rural property, in many instances, are to blame, Barton adds. He describes Marine and Moro Townships as likely to receive 1.25 multipliers from the review board.

Barton has suggested that the county may add seven per cent to the eight per cent he has listed for Granite City. If a 1.15 total is listed, the 1.0503 state projection would result

Theft charged

Gary G. Smith, of Rural Route Two, Box 1175 Lola Drive, Mitchell, was arrested at his home Thursday by Madison County sheriff's deputies who charged him with a felony count of theft.

Deputies alleged a motorcycle in his front yard had been stolen from the Harley Davidson motorcycle shop in Godfrey during a burglary March 3.

Cleveland newspapers purchased

V. I. Minahan, president of Post Corporation, announced today that Post Corporation has acquired all of the stock of ComCorp, Inc., from Booth Newspapers, Inc.

ComCorp, Inc., publishes 10 weekly newspapers in Cleveland's suburbs plus a shopping newspaper in Lakeland, Fla.

Post Corporation, based in Appleton, Wis., is a publicly-held newspaper and broadcasting company. Its newspaper operations include suburban papers in the Milwaukee, Boston and St. Louis areas.

ComCorp, the publisher of the Sun Newspapers, was formed in 1970 through purchase and integration of 17 newspaper in Cleveland's suburban "ring."

Following a public offering of stock that year, it was publicly owned until 1976, when it was acquired by Booth Newspapers.

ComCorp's Cleveland group has a total circulation of over 238,000, some of it paid, some on a "voluntary pay" system and some free.

The papers are the News Sun, Herald Sun, Sun Herald, Lakewood Sun Post, Parma Sun Post, West Side News Sun, Sun Courier, Sun Press, Sun Messenger and Southeast Sun.

The Lakeland, Fla., shopping paper, called the Polk Shopper, is distributed to 54,000 homes.

In 1975, the last year it was publicly-owned, ComCorp earned $217,000 on $6 million in revenues.

Voting places are: Precinct One, Madison Junior High School, Third Street and Alton Avenue; Precinct Two, Harris School, Seventh Street and Alton Avenue; Precinct Three, Blair School, College and Meredocia Streets, and Precinct Four, Dunbar School, Third and Jackson streets.

Judges hired by the board are: Precinct One, Mrs. Jewell Young, Mrs. Janet Shultz, Mrs. Marjorie Thomason and Clarence Green; Precinct Two, Mrs. Julia Voloski, Mrs. Mae Hendrickson, Miss Alicia Hendrickson and Mrs. Betty Rogers; Precinct Three, Mrs. Ethel Palm, Mrs. Ira Wilson, Mrs. Ola Jones and Mrs. Angela Dancy; Precinct Four, Mrs. Ada Walker, Mrs. Pearl Jackson and Mrs. Theresa McNeil.

The board increased the salary of the judges from $20 to $25 each.

The last day to apply for absentee ballot in person for the school election will be Thursday, April 7, at the board office, 1707 Fourth St., Madison.

The board was notified by the C. J. Schlosser and Co. certified public accountants, that the audit of the school district year ending June 30 will cost $1,300 and the Title One audit fee will be $350.

The board again gave permission to participate in the American Cancer Society drive "Send a Mouse to College" and approved giving students envelopes for donations of 51 cents, which is the cost of buying a mouse for scientists who need thousands of mice in cancer research.

Permission was given the fourth-grade class of Dunbar School to tour the First National Bank in Madison.

Letters of congratulations from the Granite City and Venice School Districts on the Madison High School state basketball championship victory were read and placed on file.

The board will hold the next regular meeting on April 14, at the board office, which will be to canvas votes only.

Police shoot rampaging cow after it rams car

Mounted policemen using lasso would have been helpful to Madison, Venice and Granite City officers Thursday evening as they attempted to round up a stray cow rampaging through Madison and Granite City.

The cow finally was shot and killed by Venice Patrolman Mark Koelker at 16th Street and Edison Avenue, after police determined the cow was dangerous to nearby motorists.

Madison police said the cow already had rammed its head into the side of the car of William Foote, 20, Edwardsville, in the 1800 block of Edwardsville Road.

Foote said he saw the cow approaching and pulled his car to the side of the road and stopped. The cow stopped by the car, rammed its head into the driver's side of the car and continued north toward Granite City.

Madison and Venice officers made several unsuccessful attempts to corral the cow from the time it first was reported about 5:20 p.m. on Route 203 near the McCambridge Avenue viaduct, until it went into Granite City.

Police have been unable to determine who owned the cow or how it got loose in Madison. Granite City humane authorities were requested to dispose of the carcass.

DRIVER IS ARRESTED

Adrian Martinez, 2540 Parkside Apts., was arrested at his home last week and was charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident after his auto allegedly struck a utility pole beside St. Clair Avenue east of Dale Avenue, breaking the pole off at the base. The auto allegedly left the scene and was located about two minutes later by police. Debris from the car left at the scene appeared to match damage to the car, police said.

DICK ALLEN SAYS ASK YOURSELF
THE IMPORTANT QUESTION:
"WHY SHOULD WE ELECT A MAN
WE KNOW WILL NOT FINISH THE JOB?"
"It is illegal to hold the office of Township Supervisor and County Board simultaneously." (ILL. REV. STATS., 1975, CH. 102, P. 4.10)
The Law is clear in the case of Chairman Hagnauer. After only 19 months he is going to have to make a decision and give up one of the two political offices. In the Alton Telegraph, Chairman Hagnauer admitted that he was "Keeping his options open" and that he would Pick and Choose his Political Offices. Doesn't it make you wonder why Chairman Hagnauer is running for an office that he knows he is going to have to surrender? Rumor has it he intends to surrender it to his wife. DICK ALLEN believes that a political office is a sacred trust. They are not something that we pick and choose to satisfy our own personal gain.
Why not start off right and elect a man that can finish the job he starts?
DICK ALLEN, ATTORNEY and ADMINISTRATOR
FOR TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR — ON APRIL 5th — ELECT A MAN TO SERVE THE PEOPLE.

CANDIDATES MEET NEIGHBORS AT TEA

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stephens, 1712 Venice Ave., entertained at a tea last week to introduce Daniel Partney, mayoral candidate, and Paul Bowler, candidate for Seventh Ward alderman, to friends and neighbors.

About 35 attended.

Both candidates gave short speeches and answered questions posed by the guests.

Bill would have governor name district trustees

The Counties and Townships Committee of the Illinois House has approved a "do pass" recommendation for a legislative amendment that would permit the appointment of trustees of the Metro-East Sanitary district by the governor.

The amendment, submitted by State Rep. Monroe Flinn (D-Cahokia) who sponsored legislation that earlier replaced the old East Side Levee and Sanitary District by the new Metro-East district, was approved by the committee last week by a vote of 15 committee members in favor of a recommendation that it be passed.

State Rep. Joe Lucco (D-Edwardsville) voted "present" on the amendment, noting that he was neither in favor of nor opposed to the amendment.

Flinn prepared the amendment after four efforts by St. Clair County Board officials to name two members of the five-man board were unsuccessful because of a political feud between Victor Canty, chairman of the board, and Francis Touchette, a board member from Centreville and a leader in the county Democratic politics.

The Metro-East board now is operating with three members, a minimum required to conduct district business. Two of those members are Leonard Hylla of Madison and Russell Robinson of Granite City. Robinson is chairman of the board.

The only St. Clair County trustee whose appointment by Canty was approved is John Erhardt of Washington Park.

Flinn said his bill to amend the sanitary district law which was acted upon by the House Committee last week originally provided that the sanitary district trustees be appointed by the County Board members, a change from the original law permitting the County Board chairman to make the appointments with concurrence of the board members.

The committee amended this, however, to provide for the appointments by the governor, Flinn said.

He said the earliest the amendment could go to a vote on the House floor would be Thursday. If approved by the House it then would go to a Senate committee, and then a Senate vote if given committee approval.

The three trustees of the sanitary district have written Canty urging that the dispute over the two appointments be resolved because district business could be interrupted if one of the present members was unable to attend a meeting.

Suit filed for damages by fire

Robert and Paul Harshany have been named defendants in a two-count suit, seeking $15,000 in each count, filed in Madison County Circuit Court by Jimmie Aaron Bowman.

Bowman alleges that he suffered damage to property, loss of supplies, equipment and files, and loss of business when a fire occurred at Granite City Janitor Services and Supply Co., 2540 Washington Ave., on Oct. 7, 1976 as the result of an alleged faulty installation of a heating furnace by Harshany Sales and Electrical Service. Negligence was charged.

WHY?

I WHY, AFTER REFUSING FREE ASSISTANCE ON THE SEWER REPAIR PROJECTS, PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS, BY A HIGHLY REPUTABLE GRANITE CITY CONTRACTOR, DID THE MAYOR IMMEDIATELY SIGN A CONTRACT FOR THAT VERY PURPOSE WITH AN EAST ST. LOUIS FIRM UNDER FEDERAL INDICTMENT FOR BID RIGGING?

II WHY, WHEN THE SEWER REPAIR CONTRACT WITH THE SAME INDICTED FIRM SPECIFICALLY DESIGNATED THAT AN ENGINEER SHOULD BE THE INSPECTOR, DID THE MAYOR APPOINT A PERSON, WHO WAS NOT AN ENGINEER TO PERFORM THAT VITAL FUNCTION? (SOME REPAIRS UNDER THIS CONTRACT ARE ALREADY FALLING APART.)

III WHY, WHEN THE ONLY PERSON CONTRACTUALLY AUTHORIZED TO DESIGNATE SEWER REPAIR JOB SITES, THE SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS WHO HAD REFUSED FURTHER DESIGNATION AFTER DISCOVERING DISCREPANCIES THAT RANGED FROM $3,000 to $44,000 PER REPAIR SITE, DID THE MAYOR AND CERTAIN ALDERMEN ASSUME THIS OBLIGATION OF JOB SITE DESIGNATIONS WITH TOTAL DISREGARD OF THE CONTRACT, IN SPITE OF THE WARNING?

IV WHY DID THE MAYOR FAIL TO CONSULT WITH THE CITY ATTORNEY — APPOINTED BY HIM — REGARDING THE FINAL PAYMENT WELL IN EXCESS OF $100,000 TO THIS INDICTED AND NOW CONVICTED EAST ST. LOUIS FIRM.

V WHY IS THERE ALLEGEDLY NO RECORD IN THE GRANITE CITY CLERK'S OFFICE OF ANY BILLS BEING RECEIVED BY THE U.S. MAIL OR PAYMENTS MADE BY THE U.S. MAIL TO THE EAST ST. LOUIS INDICTED FIRM FOR THE SEWER REPAIRS?

Boy hit by train still is serious

Lonnie W. Laster, 15, of 219 Wilson Park Lane, one of two Granite City youths struck by a train last week, remained today in the intensive care unit of Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where he was transferred after emergency tratment here. His condition was reported as serious.

Laster suffered multiple injuries when he and Michael Hoffman, 12, of 2801 Benton St., were struck by a northbound Norfolk & Western Railroad freight train while the two were walking on or near railroad tracks a quarter-mile north of the 25th Street crossing behind 2734 Center St. at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Hoffman suffered several fractured ribs, internal and head injuries, and was later transferred from here to the intensive care unit of Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital, St. Louis.

The youth's father, Carl Hoffman, said today that Michael has been taken out of intensive care and placed in Room 232 at the St. Louis hospital.

Mrs. Manno, 81, dies Sunday

Mrs. Catherine Manno, 81, 2912 Iowa St., died at 3:25 p.m. Sunday in Colonial Haven Nursing home where she had been a patient for the past three weeks. She had been in failing health for three years.

Born in Alcmo, Sicily, she lived here 58 years.

Mrs. Manno and her late husband, Andrew, who preceded her in death in 1938, operated Manno's Grocery in north Venice for over 40 years.

She is survived by two sons, Leo and William Manno, St. Louis; two daughters, Mrs. John (Frances) Alessandrelli and Mrs. Josephine Richardson, both of Granite City; seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

$400 AUTO FIRE

A 1966 auto belonging to John Hassard of Troy caught fire at 9:05 a.m. Saturday near the railroad tracks at Highway 162 and 23rd Street, resulting in $400 damage. Firemen who were there 20 minutes said the blaze was confined to the engine compartment. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Ambulance to serve W. Granite City area

One of four ambulances operated by the Granite City Fire Department will be stationed at the West Granite City Fire Station to serve that area, Mayor Paul Schuler announced today.

He said the decision was reached in a meeting Sunday with Fire Chief Don Parente, Aldermen Steve Basarich and Curt Blevins of the Fifth Ward and Alderman Glen Sprankle of the Fourth Ward. West Granite City is located in those two wards.

Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward is out of the city on vacation.

Mayor Schuler said the action was taken in response to numerous requests from West Granite City residents and business and industrial representatives.

Among those requests was one by A. O. Smith Corp. asking that ambulance service be established in that area because of the potential delay of other ambulances reaching the area due to train blockages on the tracks.

Some city officials noted that the ambulances are equipped with life-saving equipment which could be used in an emergency when the tracks are blocked.

Schuler said Parente will assign a fourth ambulance to that area, although that unit had been scheduled to serve as a standby unit. The city now is using "loaner" units provided by Foster Coach Sales of Sterling, Ill., from which the new ambulances were purchased. The new ambulance units are expected to be delivered in a week to ten days.

Rewiring of campaign trailer poses danger

Granite City police have been asked to investigate who allegedly rewired the electricity to the Paul Schuler for Mayor campaign trailer at the Nameoki Village Shopping Center Thursday night or Friday morning, causing damage to the trailer and endangering the lives of some of the campaign workers.

Mrs. Jayne Ell, a campaign worker, opened the office at 11 a.m. Friday and noticed all the light bulbs were burned out. She called an electrician, Leo Kalips, 2614 Iowa St., who checked and alleged the wiring had been changed from standard 110 volts to 220 volts.

That caused the light bulbs to burn out and the transformer on the furnace to blow out.

The valves to the propane gas tanks under the trailer also were opened, allowing the gas to escape. It is not known if the opening of the gas valves was an attempt to destory the mobile home office.

A sopkesman for the Schuler campaign said the rewiring of the mobile home created a hazardous situation for workers, who could have suffered a severe or fatal shock by touching the wrong switch or light fixture.

The spokesman also contended the rewiring appeared to have been done by someone familiar with electrical wiring, and not just by a prankster or vandal.

Area residents hurt in crash

A two-car accident at Illinois Route 157 and University Drive near Edwardsville at 11:30 p.m. Friday, resulted in drivers of both autos being injured, and in injuries to three of four passengers.

Edwardsville police said details of the accident which involved autos driven by James E. Johnson, 20, of 2805 Dale Ave., and Wilson O. Oghre, 28, of Edwardsville, had not been clarified today.

Both men were taken to the Oliver C. Anderson Hospital near Troy, where Johnson was treated and released, and Oghre admitted.

Louis E. Grammer Jr., 21, of 2018 McCasland Ave., Madison, was reported injured but declined medical attention, and Herbert G. Davis, Jr., 21, of 3035 Circle Drive, Granite City, escaped injury. Both were passengers in the Johnson auto.

Two persons in Oghre's auto were injured and treated at the hostpial, Ronnie Moody, 19, St. Louis, and Eric Stewart, 19, East St. Louis.

Woman injured, driver charged

Millard L. Daniels Jr., St. Louis, was given a traffic citation charging careless driving at 4:15 p.m. Saturday, after his auto allegedly struck the rear of an auto operated by Mary M. Weese, 62, of East Alton, at a red traffic light at 20th Street and Edwardsville Road.

Police said Daniels told them he applied his brakes but the auto skidded on the pavement, striking the Weese auto which was also northbound on Edwardsville Road. The auto driven by Mary Weese in turn was shoved into the rear of the auto of Bernice M. Tabiner, 2000 Sixth St., Madison, which also was stopped at the red light.

Mary Weese was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital complaining of neck pains, treated and then released.

'Worst' winter ends, at least technically

Spring arrived at 11:43 a.m. Sunday, ending a winter that many classify as the worst in the nearly 201-year history of the nation.

Despite relatively balmy weather in recent days, the siege of cold and snow may yet return.

Today's forecast mentions the possibility of light snow and below-freezing temperature.

Car-train crash

A passenger in an auto operated by Joseph H. Starnes, 814 Washington Ave., Madison, which collided with a train at 12:50 a.m. Saturday at the 19th Street and Edwardsville Road crossing, was admitted for observation to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Charles Orr, 26, of 416 Tower Lake Apts., Edwardsville, complained of headaches after the Starnes auto, northbound on Edwardsville Road, struck an engine pulling three railroad cars.

A. J. Brocco, Caseyville, the train's enigneer, told police the Starnes auto failed to stop and that flashing warning lights were operating at the time of the accident.

THEFT FROM TAVERN

Thirty-one cases of beer with a total value of $228 were stolen from the rear storeroom at Wayside Tavern, 2160 Washington Ave., it was discovered Thursday. It was believed the storeroom door was forced open from the inside during business hours.

School filing ends

Opposition for School Board seats in all three school districts of the Quad-City area appeared certain as the filing period for filing nominating petitions ended Friday afternoon.

In the Belleville Area College District, which includes the Quad-Cities, only two candidates filed for two seats open to election. Both candidates will be elected without opposition.

In the Granite City School District, seven candidates have filed for three board seats. Among the candidates are incumbents George E. Moore Sr. and Donald W. Stucke. The third board member whose term expires this year, Harold Davis, did not seek re-election.

Four of the seven candidates are from the rural area. They include Edward Dewey Melton, Robert G. Douglas, August E. "Gus" Loeffler Jr., and William L. Luchini. The other candidate is Delton R. Groothuis.

Granite City voters this year must elect at least one "rural" board member. The board must include two rural board members, but may have more.

In Madison School District 12, three candidates, including two incumbents, are seeking two regular board terms. Voters also will elect one member to a one-year unexpired term. Only one candidate, Richard Zeisset, filed for that post. Zeisset has been serving in that seat by appointments.

Candidates for the two regular three-year terms are Frank Eaves and Elvers Johnson, both incumbents, and Samuel Joseph Dymas.

Seven candidates are seeking three board posts in the Venice School District, while two others are seeking election to the remaining one year of an unexpired term.

Candidates for the three-year terms are Jack Tolliver, Elmer Taylor and Wilbert Glasper, all incumbent board members, John Henry Williams, Earl W. Hogan, Scott A. Worley and Verla M. Arnold.

Seeking the one unexpired board seat are Gerald Cicio and Alvester Salmond.

All of the filings are subject to withdrawal by any candidate who decides to get out of the race. Deadline for withdrawing petitions is 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Seeking the two BAC board posts without opposition are Curt E. Eckert of Belleville, incumbent, and Elizabeth Jenner of Mascoutah.

Mrs. Emily Coy succumbs

Mrs. Emily Coy, 75, of 4302 Kirkpatrick Homes, was pronounced dead upon arrival at 6:50 p.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she was taken from home.

Mrs. Coy had been under a doctor's care.

Although she was born in Topeka, Kan., Mrs. Coy lived 75 years in the Quad-City area.

She is survived by a fsoter son, Teddy Dunnagan of Granite City; two brothers, Clarence "Toughie" Sorenson of Granite City and Benjamin Sorenson of Madison; two sisters, Mrs. Aaron (Edna) Sartin and Mrs. Clarence (Evelyn) Dugan, both of Granite City; and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

Woman injured

Mrs. Nettie Koehler, 53, of 2801 Dale Ave., was injured when her car and the auto of Alice Daniels, 2909 Dogwood Drive, were involved in an accident on St. Clair Avenue at Nameoki Road at 10:50 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Koehler went to St. Elizabeth Hospital where x-rays were taken of her neck and lower back and she was released.

system should take these precautions to make sure they get their money's worth:

A. Ask for proof that the product will perform as advertised.

If the seller makes verbal claims that are not reflected in the literature handed out, ask him to write those claims down and sign his name.

If the system/you are buying is not sold as a single package by one manufacturer, obtain assurance that the seller has had the professional experience of choosing the components properly.

B. Examine the warranty carefully.

Also, be sure you will know specifically who will service the solar system if something goes wrong.

C. When choosing a company, be wary of sellers who use post office box numbers. Also, don't forget your local Chamber or consumer office or Better Business Bureau. They may be able to help you determine whether a seller is reputable or not.

D. If you have what appears to be a legitimate complaint, notify the state's attorney's office immediately, the Better Business Bureau, and any consumer protection agency.

Allen

Allen is a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Granite City and has served on its board of trustees. His other past activities include service as boys' club leader for the YMCA, treasurer of the Niedringhaus School Parent-Teacher Association and a member of the Madison County Mental Health Board.

Formerly he was a member of the American Veterans Committee, Coalition for the Environment and Psychical Research Society of St. Louis, a director of the Madison County Legal Aid Society, and trustee of the Madison County Bar Association, Common Cause and Madison County Citizens Environmental Council.

A veteran of World War II, Allen served with the 13th Armored Division of the U.S. Army in France, Germany and Austria, seeing service with General Patton's Third Army.

A graduate of Illinois College and the St. Louis University School of Law, he was admitted to practice before state and local courts in Illinois in 1962. He was admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court in 1968.

Allen has served as a hearing officer for the American Arbitration Association and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

His practice consists primarily of criminal law, personal injury litigation and family court cases. He is a former city attorney for Granite City and served as a prosecutor for the state's attorney's office in Madison County for four years.

For the past five years, he has been on the staff of the public defender's office in Madison County.

Allen has been active in state and local politics for a number of years. He is a past Granite City Democratic chairman.

He comments, "I am campaigning for township supervisor primarily on two issues.

"First, that it is illegal for Mr. Hagnauer to hold the positions of township supervisor and County Board member simultaneously after December 1978.

"Illinois Revised Statutes, 1975, Ch. 102, Par. 4.10 provide that 'it is lawful for any county board member who may be elected in 1977 or before 1977 to the office of township supervisor to hold the office of county board member and township supervisor simultaneously until the expiration of his term of office as county board member; thereafter, it is unlawful for the same individual to hold both such offices simultaneously."

"The law is clear. He would either have to resign from the position of township supervisor approximately 19 months after he took office if he were re-elected, or choose not to seek re-election to the County Board of which he is chairman.

"It is unlikely that he will not choose the county board because he is paid in excess of $20,000 as chairman. In the event he were re-elected as township supervisor, and chose to remain on the county board, which seems certain, the City Council would appoint his successor as township supervisor.

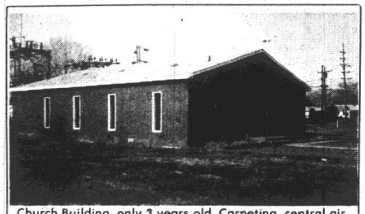

"I think he would seek appointment of his wife or a political cohort who would agree to keep his wife as office manager.

"This means the public would be deprived of the right to select a township supervisor for part of a term. If elected, he could only serve approximately 19 months out of four years; more than half of the term could be filled by someone who did not receive a single vote for supervisor.

"The second issue is that the incumbent holds many political positions, including member and chairman of the Madison County Board, Madison County liquor commissioner, chairman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council and chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

"This leaves him no time for his duties as Granite City Township supervisor and he has, in fact, turned the operation of the office over to his wife," Allen alleges.

"I am promising not to hire any member of my family in the supervisor's office and not to hold two elective paying positions at the same time."

supervisor in 1955 with duties only as a Madison County Board member. In 1961, he was elected as supervisor and assumed the additional duties of administrator for the beedy in Granite City.

Hagnauer was re-elected as supervisor in 1965, 1969 and 1973.

In seeking re-election in 1977, he says in support of his candidacy, "Having administered aid through the office of supervisor of Granite City Township since 1961, I feel that I have an understanding of the needs of families and the elderly and am qualified to continue to provide this assistance.

"The township was fortunate to receive revenue sharing funds from the federal government during my last term, providing additional funds without additional local taxes to the residents of Granite City.

"The needs of the elderly were always in my mind, but budget limitations in my early years of service limited the amount of help which the supervisor could provide to the elderly.

"With the revenue sharing money, the office has provided a temporary Senior Citizens Hall in downtown Granite City.

"The permanent hall for senior citizens will be located in a new town building which is being built on the old Central School property.

"The new town hall also will be built with revenue sharing money, without direct taxes to the people of Granite City.

"The office of supervisor, in conjunction with the City of Granite City, has also provided bus service to the elderly for shopping and banking, and transportation in a lunch nutrition program for senior citizens.

"The contract for construction of the new building was awarded in 1976 and completion is expected in 1977.

"The new building will provide offices for the supervisor, the assessor and the Special Education Department of the school district, in addition to the senior citizen hall. If I am privileged to be re-elected, I will continue these programs, and I need voters' support to do," Hagnauer concluded.

Undelivered mail 'big headache' to U.S. Postal Service

The U.S. Postal Service has a $344 million dollar headache known as UAA (Undeliverable As Addressed) and is asking the mailing public to help ease some of the pain, according to the postmasters of the Quad-City area.

Last year, the nation's post offices received more than three billion pieces of mail that could not be delivered as addressed. Cost of handling that mail is estimated at $344 million, the statement said.

Much of this undeliverable mail could become deliverable with cooperation from mail users, the postmasters said.

For example, when a resident plans to move and knows his new address, he should let the post office and those who sent him mail regularly (newspaper and magazine publishers, people he does business with, family member and friends) know about the move. A free kit is available at the post office to make this easy to do.

Given such information, the post office will forward first-class mail to the new address for a full year without any charge. Publications will be forwarded for three full months without charge to local addresses and to other post offices for three months if forwarding postage is guaranteed.

Packages of obvious value will be forwarded for one year, locally without charge and to another post office if forwarding postage is guaranteed, the postmasters said.

If a resident moves and leaves no forwarding address, the post office will hold mail for 10 days awaiting a change of address. If no change is received, it is considered as undeliverable.

Other mail is considered undeliverable if it has no postage; if it is refused by the addressee at time of delivery or returned unopened and marked "refused," or if unclaimed after a notice has been issued of attempt to deliver and it is not picked up by the addressee before time to return it.

What happens to UAA mail? Undeliverable mail is returned to the sender if there is an address. If there is no return address, the mail goes to a "dead letter" office where it is opened and an effort is made to determine a deliverable address for either the sender or receiver, it was explained.

When UAA mail is returned to the sender, a "hand pointing to the return address is stamped on the envelope along with the words "Return To Sender" and the reason for return. Envelopes that are stamped with a "hand" are not remailable and cannot be reused, the officals noted.

In addition to notifying the post office and correspondents of a change of address, these suggestions are offered for "stamping out" undeliverable mail; make the address legible and as complete as possible, including full name, street and apartment number (where applicable), city, state, and zip code. For business mail it helps to add the department name, room number, etc. to the address, the postmasters added.

Anyone with doubts about a correct zip code or have any other mail questions may call the post office for help.

North wins first girls' regional — plays in sectional Wednesday

A 20-point scoring effort by Edwardsville's Denise Schaake was overcome Thursday night in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium as Coach Debbie Holt's GCHS North girls' basketball team rallied late in the third quarter and then matched Edwardsville point-for-point in the final period for a 48-47 victory, claiming regional honors in the first Illinois High School Association girls' state cage tournament series.

North High now advances into sectional competition at Belleville Althoff, meeting the Alton Marquette regional winner, Alton, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Winners from last week's Centralia and O'Fallon regionals, Centralia and Belleville East, open the Althoff sectional, the two teams clashing at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The championship game is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday at Belleville Althoff.

East defeated Belleville West 40-33 and Alton crushed Marquette 71-23 Thursday.

The victor in this Friday's title contest at Althoff will be advancing into a super-sectional game at Salem on Tuesday, March 29, to meet the Benton sectional winner.

The team victorious at Salem will enter quarterfinal competition of the state finals at Illinois State University, Normal, at 8:30 p.m. Friday, April 1, against the winner of the Blue Island (Eisenhower) super-sectional.

State tournament semifinal games are set for Saturday, April 2, in the afternoon and the state championship game at 8:30 p.m. that day.

In Thursday's regional title tilt here, the Steelerettes trailed Edwardsville 14-6 at the end of the first quarter. Aided by six points by Tracy McIntyre and four by Laura Fineshriber in the second period, North battled back to trail by only 23-21 at halftime.

North's Cheryl School field saw sparse action in the game due to illness, but joined Tracy McIntyre and Sue Liebold as four-point scorers to go with two points by Shari Ripka and one by Laura McKee as North went ahead 36-35 at the close of the third period.

North and Edwardsville each scored 12 points each in the final period.

Edwardsville led after the first minute and a half of the fourth quarter but the Steelerettes opened up a five-point lead with slightly over three minutes to play.

The local lead was cut to one with 43 seconds remaining.

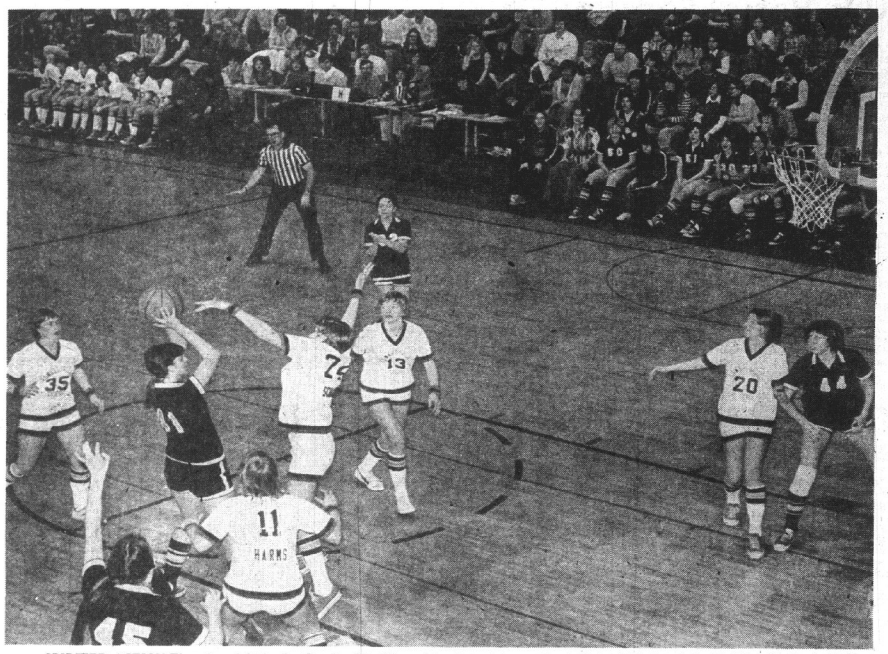

Cheryl Schoolfield was fouled with two seconds left and immediately a technical foul was called against a North player for throwing the ball in the air, apparently in happy anticipation that her team would win. Miss Schoolfield scored on one of the two free throws to give her team a two-point lead.

On the technical foul, Denise Schaake sank a free throw to again cut her team's deficit to one point. A jump ball was ordered at mid-court and the ball was tipped away, time running out before further scoring could occur.

Edwardsville partisans indicated they felt their team should have been given possession, and said they may file a protest. Independent authorities later said the jump ball decision by the referees appears to be correct.

Edwardsville held the edge in field goals, 20-16, but fell behind North at the charity stripe, 7-16. The losing squad committed the most fouls, 18-15.

Tracy McIntyre led North with 12 points, followed by Cheryl Schoolfield with 11, Laura Fineshriber 10, Sue Liebold eight, Laura McKee five and Shari Ripka, two.

SPIRITED ACTION Thursday night in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium as the North Steelerette squad sets up an offensive play against the Tigerettes of Edwardsville in the championship game of the North-hosted girls' regional tournament. North players (dark uniforms) from left are Shari Ripka (45), Sue Leibold (41) with the ball, Laura Fineshriber (32) in the center background and Tracy McIntyre (44) under the basket. Officer Friendly benefit basketball on Tuesday night

Action, suspense, drama and some basketball are expected to take place at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Granite City High School Memorial Gymnasium when a Granite City Fire-Police basketball team will take on the St. Louis football Cardinals in a cage contest.

The object of the game will be to win — in this case, win for the hundreds of local children who benefit from the "Officer Friendly" athletic fund.

Tickets are currently on sale by firemen and police and will also be sold at the door on a first-come, first-served basis. Tickets at $2 each admit one adult or two children.

A halftime show will feature four groups with over 100 participants. The extravaganza will include the 50-member North High pep band, the Steel City Belles pom pon squad, pom pon alumni and new "North Guard" flag and rifle squads.

The tentative Cardinal lineup: Micahel Senisbaugh 5-11, 190-pound safety; Steven Neils, 6-2, 215, linebacker; Roger Wehrli, 6', 190, corner back; James Hart, 6-1, 210, quarterback; Terry Joyce, 6-6, 230, tight end and punter.

Terry Metcalf, 5-10, 185, running back; Eddie Moss, 6-0, 215, running back; Mark Arneson, 6-2, 220, linebacker; Ronald Yankowski, 6-5, 250, defensive end; and Tim Kearney, 6-2, 229, linebacker.

Volunteers from the fire department are: Bob Bell, Ed Hagnauer, Junior Mathis, Charles Bernaix and Kenny Drube.

Police officers on the joint fire-police basketball team are Fred Hoffman, Roger Hayes, David Rosenburg, Richard Scharden, Jim Reader, Dennis Chenault and Craig Nonn, who will be the team manager.

The officials of the game will be Russell Chappell, Jerry Cheverveyt and Sam Dymas; announcer and timekeeper will be Ron Dillard.

Trojans honored by Illinois legislature

Madison High School basketball players and coaches were welcomed and praised by Illinois legislators on the floor of the Senate and House of Representatives last week. MHS won statewide basketball honors this month.

Among those who escorted the Madison group was State Representative Joe Lucco, a former high school basketball coach at Edwardsville.

A resolution adopted by the Illinois House related:

"The Madison High School Trojans captured the state Class A high school basketball championship in Champaign on March 12, 1977, by defeating Aurora Central Catholic High School by the score of 71-55.

"The Trojans' defensive efforts proved to be a key element in their Illinois High School Association championship victory, which saw them bounce back from an early 11-2 deficit to a 26-26 tie at halftime. The Assembly Hall crowd saw them surge in the second half to the 16-point margin of victory.

"Head Coach Larry Graham, a skillful strategist, aided by his two fine assistant coaches, David Hodges and John Paskus, provided leadership and guidance to this outstanding group of young men who worked diligently throughout the season to perfect their championship style.

"The Trojan squad, which racked up a season record of 29-3, was led by all-state selection Randall Jones and Rodney Davis, a tournament all-star. The other members of this truly great, well-balanced team were Kenny Body, Sylvester Collins, Rodney Crochrell, Clayton Harris, James Heard, Kent Stanley, Lloyd Williams and Ron Williams.

"The Madison High School student body took great pride in fellow students' accomplishments. The remarkable talents of this team, which included phenomenal quickness, overpowering rebounding and the right touch for the big basket, often brought its fans to their feet.

"They stood and were proud to be from Madison.

"Whereas the support for the team reached out into the community of Madison where the team's success served to f community solidarity more than anything else had done in recent years; therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the Eightieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that we offer our sincerest congratulations to the Madison High School Trojans on their 1977 Class A basketball championship and on their returning the championship to Southern Illinois, where it rightfully belongs.

"A suitable copy of this preamble and resolution (will) be presented to Coach Larry Graham, his assistants, each player and Madison High School with our heartiest best wishes for continued success in the future."

High hopes for the baseball Warriors

GCHS South's baseball Warriors will open their 1977 season at New Athens today, starting what Coach Conrad "Babe" Champion believes could be the best season for the school since the 1963 state qualifying squad of Coach Joe Fedora.

The Warriors won the state title in 1948 under the coaching of the late Lawrence McCauley, beating New Athens 4-1 in the final game.

Champion's belief is based partly on the fact that eight of 10 returning lettermen on this year's squad were members last summer of the American Legion Tri-City Post 113 team under the South mentor. The team posted a 23-11 record enroute to placing second in state competition. Post 113 was defeated 8-7 by Des Plaines in the 12-inning championship game at Springfield.

The 10 lettermen were instrumental in South High's 18-9-1 record last year.

Junior — Tom Hennrich, shortstop-third base.

Only Sedabres and Stanton were not Post 113 players.

Two other members of Post 113's squad also are on South's roster this year — junior John Krekovich, an infielder, and junior Larry Heagey, an outfielder.

Hennrich, who last year saw varsity action as a sophomore, finished the 1976 high school season with a .446 batting average, on 29 hits in 65 trips to the plate. He scored 20 runs for the Warriors.

Evans started eight times for South and appeared three times in relief, finishing with a 1.77 earned-run-average and a 4-2 won-lost record.

Senior Tim Anderson will see action as a designated hitter.

RETURNING STEELER SPRINTERS. These GCHS North athletes practicing for the 1977 track and field season are, from the left, seniors David Peters, Bruce Jateff and Fred Clay and junior Don Cook. Peters is slated for dash, hurdle and relay duties. Jateff will compete in dashes, 330-yard low hurdles and relays. Clay, who set school records last season in the triple jump and 100- and 220-yard dashes, will participate in those events again this spring. In addition to dashes, Cook will see action in both high and low hurdle events. (Press-Record Photo)

Benefit game in Madison on Thursday

The Madison Junior Service Club will sponsor a benefit basketball game Thursday at 7 p.m., pitting Madison High School faculty members against the school's student players.

Funds derived from donations will go to the "March of Dimes" campaign.

Janet Shultz, service club president, notes that $1 per person will be accepted at the door of the MHS gymnasium, or advance tickets may be obtained from any faculty member.

TIRES, WHEELS STOLEN

All four tires and magnesium wheels were stolen from the car of Claude Martin, 45 Kaseberg Park, Pontoon Beach, between midnight at 9:40 a.m. Sunday at Houser Automotive, 18th Street and Madison Avenue. The car was left setting on its rims. The loss was estimated at $600.

LIGHTING DEDICATION of the St. Elizabeth soccer field, Pontoon and Mayrville Roads, by Mayor Paul Schuler (holding ball). The ceremony Thursday evening opened first-ever nightime competition for the YMCA Soccer Association on the area's only lighted playing field for the sport. Mayor Schuler, father of a member of the state champion GCHS South soccer team, side-kicked the ball onto the field as 18 vapor lights valued at $12,000 illuminated the area. Opposing boys' teams surrounded the officials—St. Elizabeth at left and Wood River at right. Included were, left to right, Seventh Ward Alderman Emerald Dawes, George Gordon, City Clerk Robert Stevens, Mayor Schuler and Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald Coleman. Wood River later defeated the St. Elizabeth squad 3-1. Games are scheduled to be played under the lights this season on Tuesdays and Thursdays. (Press-Record Photo)

Honor Warrior athletes tonight

The Warrior, Winter sports award banquet will begin this evening with dinner at six o'clock, followed by award presentations to South basketball and wrestling athletes in the school's cafeteria. Only a limited number of tickets will be available at the door at a cost of $2.50 per person.

Coach Don Deterding's cagers ended the 1976-77 season with an 8-16 record. Coach William Schmitt's wrestlers posted at 22-2 regular season mark before claiming district honors, placing third in sectional competition and 29th in the state meet.

WASHINGTON ELIMINATED IN NATIONAL WRESTLING

Jerry Washington, one of SIUE's wrestling All-Americans and the only Cougar to qualify for NCAA Division I national championships, lst 15-12 Thursday night in the second round of the NCAA tournament in Norman, Okla.

He had qualified for the Division I tourney by his performance in the Division II championships. Coach Larry Kristoff's 190-pound matman won the national title at his weight class in Division II two weeks ago in Cedar Falls, Ia. Baseball Steelers ready for campaign

The baseball Steelers of GCHS North will start their 1977 season tomorrow with 14 of the 17 athletes lacking varsity experience heading into the 4 p.m. opener at Breese Mater Dei.

Coach Robert Stegemeier will guide the team. Returning lettermen are Seniors Jodi Failoni and Kevin Hayes and Junior Doug Rains.

"We'll be competitive," predicts the coach, "but the talent we have available definitely needs to improve in certain areas and correct mistakes.

"It's just a matter of being patient."

Assisting the players to improve their game will be Jack Parker, working with the pitching staff, Ron Yates, with the sophopore team, and Dennis Kunnemann, with freshman players.

Only one of the three letterman is slated for duty on the mound—Rains. He also will see action as third baseman.

"Our hurlers look strong," notes Stegemeier, "but inexperienced."

Failoni is an outfielder, and Hayes will do double-duty as second baseman and outfielder. Both have been named captains of the Steeler squad.

Terry Page, pitcher-first base, James Goodyear, pitcher-shortstop, Don Walton, outfielder, Jeff Hamilton, pitcher-third vase, Rich Willaredt, first base, Mike Simpson, catcher.

Danny Harper, second base, Rusty Gregory, second base, Bruce Wright, outfield, Randy Vandergriff, pitcher, Kevin Ragan, pitcher, Dave Morlen, shortstop, Nick Thorndyke, infielder, and Gary Paul.

Thorndyke will be competing for the first time in the sport.

Junior Gary Paul, who saw limited action with last year's varsity squad, will miss four to six weeks of the season due to a broken wrist.

Here's an interesting question . . . Of all the teams in major league professional football, baseball, basketball or hockey today, there are only 3 whose nicknames do NOT end with the letter "S" . . . Can you name them? . . . They are the Boston Red Sox and Chicago White Sox of baseball, and the New Orleans Jazz of pro basketball.

Amazingly, Wilt Chamberlain in the 1961-62 National Basketball Association season AVERAGED 50 points per game all season! . . . No one else has ever come close to that average for a season.

What's the highest price anyone ever paid to buy a sports team? . . . The record was set in 1972 when Robert Isray bought the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League for 19-million dollars . . . That still stands the most money for the purchase of any team in history.

River Festival friends' campaign starting here

The 1977 Mississippi River Festival Friends Campaign, which seeks support for the cultural and educational programs of the Festival, held annually on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is being launched in this region.

Harold R. Fischer of Granite City, vice-chairman of the board of First Granite City National Bank, is chairman of the campaign, which helps finance Festival programs, such as the chamber music series, dance series, summer music institute, arts and crafts fair, symphony series, summer dance institute, a disadvantaged audience outreach program and others.

"With the emphasis on fine arts and family-type entertainment at the Festival this summer, becoming a Friend makes more sense than ever," Chairman Fischer said.

"Contributors can really feel that they are helping maintain an important part of our area's cultural arts."

Lyle Ward, director of the Festival, has explained that the Festival receives support from the National Endowment for the Arts and from foundations in Missouri and Illinois because the River Fest is nationally recognized for its "quality entertainment and excellent educational program." Projected foundation support for this season totals $125,000.

"In spite of this impressive support, the gap between Festival expenses and income revenues is approximately $40,000, which must come from contributors if the Festival is to continue its service to the bi-state region," Ward said.

Chairman Fischer pointed out that the Friends Fund offers five different methods of contributing to the MRF. "The size of the contribution, of course, varies with the individual," he said, "but all of the Friends are helping us support the MRF and its many family and fine arts programs."

Fischer explained that the five categories and the benefits for patrons in each category are:

"Student Friends' (contributions of $10 to $29): Advance notice of schedule, a regular Festival newsletter, name listed in the program, and a 20 per cent discount on Festival tee shirt.

"Friends" ($30 to $99): In addition to benefits in the first category, they also receive invitations to Friends' parties and two complimentary reserved seats for Friends' Night.

"Sustaining Friends:: ($100 to $499): They also receive four complimentary reserved seats for Friends' Night, a book of coupons which may be exchanged for tickets, and special parking privileges.

"Tent Raisers" ($500 to $999): They also have the privilege of ticket reservations by telephone.

"Magna Tent Raisers" ($1,000 and above): They also receive a selection of $200 worth of tickets for the summer season with up to four reserved seats for each concert selected, plus free admittance to Festival grounds for all concerts, and membership in the National Festival Managers' Club, with "VIP" treatment at all participating arts festivals, including Ravinia, Wolftrap, Saratoga and Concord.

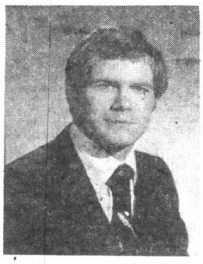

"While the size of the contribution is important," said Fischer, "just the fact that a person has contributed is important, too.

"People become Friends because they are patrons of the arts, of course. But they are also civic-minded, and they want to help make sure that the MRF remains available to the community.

Fischer said those interested in becoming Friends of the MRF can mail contributions to the Mississippi River Festival, SIU at Edwardsville, 62026.

Membership open in Mounds museum group

Memberships are now available in the Cahokia Mounds Museum Society, a group to promote and protect the Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site, according to Joseph B. Abell, president of the society. It was organized last year as a not-for-profit corporation in Illinois.

Members will receive the society's newsletter, "Cahokian," be able to purchase books and other items through the society-operated museum shop at a discount, and be invited to take part in special events having to do with the archaeology of the Cahokia Mounds.

The local site is the largest prehistoric Indian site in North America, Abell said. Part of the site, which was an Indian metropolis 800 years ago, is under the jurisdiction of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Abell said the Conservation Department, as a matter of policy, cannot publish the newsletter or operate the museum shop. Hence, the society has been formed to handle these functions.

Future society plans include establishment of a research library at Cahokia, sponsorship of archaeology tours, lectures on the site and establishment of a scholarship fund.

Membership categories start at $5 for students and $15 for families, and range upward.

Persons wanting more information may contact the society at the Cahokia Mounds Museum, 7850 Collinsville Road, telephone 344-4750.

How to fly your kite safely

Kite flying is fun.
But it can be dangerous. It needn't be if you follow these simple safety rules:

1. Use wood and paper in your kite . . . not wire or metal.
2. Use dry string . . . not wire or anything metallic.
3. Fly your kite on days when there is no rain.
4. Fly your kite FAR FROM ELECTRIC POWER LINES . . . and remember these rules when flying your model airplane too.
5. Avoid busy streets and highways while flying your kite.
6. Keep away from fallen wires.
7. Fly your kite far from TV, FM and CB antennas.
8. Call us if your kite gets snagged in a power line. Do not pull the string or climb power poles.

Burnell vice president, controller of GC Steel

A. Michael Burnell has been promoted to vice president and controller of Granite City Steel, it was announced today by James V. Stack, president.

Granite City Steel, largest steel producer in the St. Louis area, is a division of National Steel Corporation. As controller, Burnell succeeds G. Watts Humphrey, who has moved to National's Midwest Steel Division as president.

Burnell, 29, joined Granite City Steel in May 1976 as assistant controller.

He previously had worked for Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates (Boston) as electonic data processing consultant and as manager of financial analysis; and for an Eastern subsidiary, Boston Gas Company, as manager of economic analysis specializing in rate cases.

A native of Sayre, Pa., Burnell received a bachelor of arts degree in physics from Cornell University in 1970 and a business administration degree in finance and control from Harvard Business School in 1972.

He spent six years in the U.S. Army Reserves. His outside activities include district finance chairmanship for the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Burnell and his wife, Elisabeth, live in St. Louis County.

Backs sewers but wants law altered

Support for efforts to install sanitary sewers in Nameoki and Chouteau Townships was voiced Friday by State Representative Jim McPike, who said he hopes legislation he proposes will not harm sewer progress.

He favors altering petition procedures in special service areas, the type of governmental structure that the sewer planners here have been utilizing.

McPike told the Press-Record, "Obviously, I disagree with our lead editorial of March 17. I am simply trying to allow local people to have a more direct input into local projects and thus into local taxing policy.

"I sincerely believe that the majority of the people know what is best for them. They do not like government always telling them instead of letting them decide what is best.

"You addressed yourself to the merits of new sewers in Nameoki and Chouteau Townships, a subject that we agree upon.

"However, the proposed legislation to change the Illinois special tax law was not meant to and, in fact, will not have any effect on the current sewer project.

"If the proposed changes pass, they will take effect July 1, 1977, and could in no way be retroactive to 1976.

"The new legislation would, in the future, put the burden of proof on those in favor of a local project instead of on those against the project.

"This will be accomplished either by a referendum or by having those in favor obtain the signatures of over 50 per cent of the people involved.

"This is not my idea or my philosophy alone. Most people believe that they should have a direct say in local taxes. If, indeed, a local project is needed, it can stand on its own merits before the local people and win approval in a referendum.

"For example, when new school taxes become absolutely necessary, the local business community voices support, labor endorses the program, the local newspaper gives editorial support and then the people get to evaluate everything and make the final decision at the polling place.

"This has worked successfully in Granite City many times in the past. Proof of this fact is the excellent school system and parks that exist in the area.

"Further more, when programs are thoroughly discussed, it tends to take the demagoguery away from the issue. It allows the voice of reason to prevail and the voice of reason is that of the people.

"Given time to hear both sides, given time to study the issue, the people in the Quad-City area have in the past chosen what is best for them. In the future, they should be allowed the same priviledge.

"There are many complex issues that should rightfully be decided by legislative bodies after full deliberation. There are, however, many local issues that should be decided directly by those local people that are affected.

"I am only trying to make that possible. I welcome input on this.

"I thought that most people were in favor of the proposed legislation. If they are not, I will table the legislation and readily admit my error in judgment," McPike concluded.

Flowering crabapple tree sale this week

The annual sale of Dorothea Flowering Crabapple trees, sponsored by the Women's Division, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, is taking place this week, Mrs. Jo Meyer, Women's Division beautification chairman, reported.

Persons interested in purchasing a tree, costing $4.50 each, may call the Chamber office, at 876-6400, this week.

Reserved trees may be picked up Friday, by appointment, at Granite Sheet Metal Works, 2500 Missouri Ave., Mrs. Meyer said.

Only 150 of the four-to-five-foot tall trees are available this year, the chairman noted. About 80 remain to be sold from the total shipment.

The Chamber's Women's Division sponsors the project each spring to help beautify the community and not as a fund-rasing project, Mrs. Meyer explained.

The Dorothea Flowering Crabapple, a densely branched tree, grows to a height of 25 feet and may be used in yards and patios or as a street tree.

The tree bears a double, clear pink blossom and its fruit is a half-inch in diameter.

Media Missouri-dominated—Byers

State Rep. Harold Byers, D-Highland, Saturday criticized "St. Louis media" for lack of positive Illinois coverage.

Addressing a seminar at Fairview Heights on "Issues and Opportunities for the Illinois Portion of the Metropolitan Area," Byers said the metropolitan area east of the Mississippi River has been afflicted by a "poor step-sister of the St. Louis" image.

"Slowly, but surely, we changed our image," Byers said, citing establishment of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, efforts to build an airport at Columbia-Waterloo and the growth of the region.

Rep. Byers said maintaining a favorable image requires that the Illinois area continue to grow "in a well thought-out and planned way to foster a unique lifestyle while at the same time finding workable solutions to difficult problems in East St. Louis."

He charged that problems slowing development of some areas in the Illinois region "are too rarely placed before our citizens by a Missouri-dominated media." He called for creating an Illinois television station.

Byers compliments "the many excellent local newspapers published on the Illinois side of the river."

Spokesman says signs top 1,000

Stephen Conkovich, 2802 Dogwood Drive, spokesman for mayor candidate Daniel Partney, says he estimates there are over 1,000 Partney campaign signs on residential lawns.

Campaign activities are including visits to homes and informal gatherings. Parade plans are being made for Saturday afternoon, April 2.

Education policy reviews

The State Board of Education has initiated a policy development process that will put most major educational issues under scrutiny during the next three years.

At its mid-March meeting, the board adopted a policy development agenda that recommends 41 topics for review by the board. The agenda also suggests the year in which each issue should be considered, starting with the current fiscal year.

Board Member Adrienne Bailey, who chairs the Planning and Program Committee, said the process was devised to provide a mechanism for orderly and timely consideration of policy decisions by the board.

She said the system also is flexible, allowing the board to address new educational concerns as they emerge or to postpone consideration of issues of diminishing importance.

Eight topics are listed for policy review during the current fiscal year which ends June 30.

The board will be asked to determine its position on legislation that would establish statutory provisions governing collective bargaining by teachers.

Other topics on the agenda for fiscal 1977 policy decisions are student discipline, teacher retirement laws, desegregation assistance, non-public school regulations, and new federal laws on vocational education and special education.

The agenda was developed so that citizens and educators will know in advance what questions and issues are under consideration. The State Board by statute must review policies and recommend necessary changes in the law to the governor and General Assembly.

In fiscal 1978, which starts July 1, 1977, school finance will be among the principal subject areas involved in the policy development process. Other topics up for review then will include federal programs, parenting and early childhood education, statewide computerized data network, teacher training, tenure and seniority.

Among the topics for policy consideration by the board in the following year will be citizen involvement in school district program planning, use of school facilities for public and social service programs, possible expansion of adult and continuing education programs, and possible additions to, deletions of or other changes in mandated programs.

During fiscal year 1980, major issues scheduled for the policy development process are ethnic education, gifted education, school code revision, absenteeism, student rights and television as a learning tool.

Juveniles present special problems

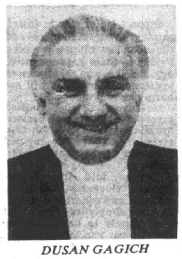

The multiple problems of delinquent minors, minors in need of supervision, and neglected and dependent minors were explained to the Breakfast Kiwanis Club by Granite City Juvenile Officer Dusan Gagich during a meeting Thursday in Charlie's Restaurant.

In the introduction of the speaker, Kiwanian Col. George Tellor, assistant chief of the Granite City Police Department, said that it was the 21st anniversary of Officer Gagich as a member of the department.

Tellor noted that Gagich has received numerous commendations and was made the first full-time juvenile officer in the department in 1968.

Tellor said that Gagich frequently assists the detective division with assignments.

Gagich noted that if the offender is under 13 years of age, the child can not be tried under the criminal act and threfore must be turned over to the Department of Corrections. When the Department of Corrections is through with the child they often release the child to the parents. One-third of the children then go back and do the same thing over, Gagich alleged.

DUSAN GAGICH

Gagich told the Kiwanians that if a crime committed by a juvenile involves damages or theft losses of less than $150, he is charged with a misdemeanor, but if the damage or loss is more than $150 it is rated as a felony. He said that truancy cases are turned over to Coordinated Youth Services, and there is a special agency that handles child-abuse cases.

Gagich commented on the large number of sex offense cases that are committed, but said most often they do not actually come to trial because the young age of the victim would not be held reliable on a witness stand. This type of offense is very upsetting because most of the cases are dismissed with the victim being unprotected, according to Gagich.

Leads children to safety during fire

A supervisor at the Cloverview Child Care Center, housed in the United Pentecostal Church at 2450 Pontoon Road, has been commended by officials for leading about 45 children to safety last week when fire caused an estimated $1,000 damage to the building.

Firemen, who required 45 minutes to extinguish the blaze, said Doris Apthorpe led the children outside "in a quiet and mannerly fashion" when an electrical service box shorted, setting fire to a wastebasket and wall.

Dallas and Douglas list objectives in First Ward

CHARLIE DOUGLAS

One of two Granite City First Ward aldermanic candidates is Charlie Douglas, 3010 Pershing Blvd.

He comments, "I am a lifelong resident of Granite City and a resident of the First Ward for 16 years.

"I decided to be a candidate for alderman because I feel that the incumbent alderman has not adequately represented First Ward citizens. He has been an alderman for 14 years and yet many people in the ward have never seen or even heard of him.

"If elected, I intend to change that state of affairs. At least once every two months, I will call for ward meetings in which residents can meet with me and discuss the problems and conditions that exist in their area and in the city.

"Those meetings would also allow me to inform the people of current activities and proposals being considered by the City Council.

"I believe Granite City needs a 'changing of the guard.' We need fresh, new and energetic people on the council, people who will provide new ideas and enthusiasm with "genuine plans for civic improvement."

"The ward needs an alderman who is sincerely concerned about the living conditions, and an alderman whom the people can rely on to be an effective and forceful spokesman for their area.

"There are many improvements to which I pledge my energy if elected. I feel that we Granite Cityans need to instill some pride into our city, and that the first place to begin is at home.

"We need to initiate a general cleanup campaign to make our city more attractive. This would be a big step toward revitalizing our city.

"A cleaner city would attract more people, more industry and more doctors and thus help relieve our unemployment, our rising crime rate and the prevailing stigma that Granite City is a deteriorating town.

"We need more recreational facilities for our teenagers. During the warm months, our teenagers have very few recreational outlets, which explains the reason for the growing crime rate from people of that age group," Douglas says.

"We need to take advantage of federal grants and programs for the elderly. Our city government does practically nothing for this age group.

"In the ward, we need to initiate street and alley improvements, including curbs and sidewalks on many of the streets. We need better street lighting on Monroe, Lee and Washington Avenue.

"In Kirkpatrick Homes, we need a cleanup campaign and more recreational facilities for the youth. We need better taxi service for the older citizens of Anhorage Homes and the rest of the city.

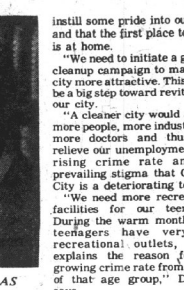

"In general, Granite City needs a change of its current administration and the election of men and women who are better qualified and more concerned about our city and its future, not just their own ego.

"I don't pretend to know all the answers to our city's ills, but I can promise to study diligently, inquire frequently and work hard. With the help of the people, we can again make Granite City a cleaner, safer and nicer place to live."

Douglas says, "I have recently passed the bar examination of Illinois and am now a licensed attorney.

"My undergraduate schooling resulted in a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Illinois in Champaign. I helped finance my education by working at McDonnell-Douglas as a co-op student and as a legal assistant at the Land of Lincoln legal aid office in Madison.

"I was formerly employed at Granite City Steel as an engineer before entering law school. I am a graduate of Granite City High School and a member of the Church of Christ, 29th Street and Washington Avenue."

WILLIAM DALLAS

William "Bill" Dallas, 2001 E. 20th St., seeks re-election to the City Council in the First Ward.

A resident of Granite City for over 50 years, he is married and has three sons.

He has served on the council 14 years, and served in the South Pacific for 40 months in World War II.

He has been a steelworker at Granite City Steel for 22 years.

Dallas is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and the 37th Division Organization of World War II.

He comments, "During my 14 years as alderman, I have served on the following committees:

"Traffic, city hall, fire and water, negotiating, intergovernmental, planning and zoning, sanitation and light committees.

"At the present time, our light committee has a five-year program of better lights at streets and alleys.

"The First Ward was the first one that had these new lights installed.

"As monies are available each year, each ward is working on streets, curbs and guttering, and sidewalks. Pershing Street work was done in the past three months.

"As most people know, money from the general fund was used to take care of sewer breaks all over Granite City.

"It looks as though we are catching up on these sewers. As more money becomes available each year, more streets will be given top priority.

"As more government revenue funds are made available, they will be applied to projects in all wards.

"If elected again, I will work as always — for the people, young, old and senior citizens, in a reasonable, truthful and sincere manner.

"I have always maintained that working with people in unity and harmony makes our city a great city.

"To me, it is a great honor to serve all the people of Granite City," Dallas concludes.

Seek owners of wedding rings

Granite City police are attempting to determine the owners of a set of wedding rings found by two boys in an alley behind Eddie's Lounge, 2900 Nameoki Road.

The rings were found in a Gordon's Jewelers ring box inside a sock laying in the alley. The set contains a woman's white gold diamond ring and a man's matching band. Both have several diamonds and a floratine design.

Granite City police said proof of purchase and a fuller description of the rings will be required to claim them.

File disclosure work massive task for FBI

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has just launched a massive, multimillion dollar effort to "dig its way out of an avalanche of paper work" generated by the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts (FOIPA), Director Clarence M. Kelley said Friday.

At a cost of $6,500,000, the FBI is bringing into its Washington headquarters two task forces of 200 agents each from throughout the nation during a six-month period to attack the problem.

The task forces of field agents are only one aspect of an overall operational plan designed to enable the FBI to comply with the time provisions of the FOIPA, eliminate a backlog, and achieve a capacity to keep abreast of FOIPA requests.

The overall cost of operation for the 1976-77 fiscal year is expected to be at least $11.6 million. Even after elimination of the backlog, permanent annual cost of the FBI's FOIPA Branch will be more than $6.4 million, Kelley said.

The task forces of field agents will assist the permanent staff of 53 agents and 322 support personnel in reviewing millions of items of information in FBI files to respond to FOIPA requests.

"We have thus far increased our FOIPA staff from eight to 375 since 1974, and have logged 20,063 hours of overtime from 1975 through August 1976. But we've found we haven't been able to bail out the boat fast enough to keep pace with the massive waves of requests, despite all our earnest efforts," Kelley said.

"We realize this is an expensive project," Kelley added, "but it is essential if we are to conform to FOIPA requirements."

He noted that the project and other aspects of the FBI's handling of FOIPA requests have been discussed with appropriate committees of Congress and the Department of Justice. The task-force project has their approval, he said.

Communications to the FBI's field offices throughout the country already have been dispatched, identifying the 400 agents who are to be diverted from investigative assignments to go to Washington.

The beefed-up FOIPA forces will be expected to review millions of items of information to make certain they fulfill disclosure mandates of the Feedom of Information and Privacy Acts and release all material not exempted from the FOIPA.

A key objective is to eradicate a backlog consisting of nearly 10 million pages and achieve a current status as to future FOIPA matters.

Kelley noted that, each day, 8,000 agents throughout the nation, with thousands of support personnel, are recording the results of their investigations, thus generating new records subject to future FOIPA requests.

Kelley cited the growing cost of handling FOIPA requests from fiscal year 1974 to fiscal year 1976. The 1974 cost was $160,000; 1975, $462,000; and 1976, $3,115,984.

"Aside from the cost factor," Kelley said, "we cannot ignore the fact that by diverting these field agents from their normal duties, we will be losing about 85 man-years in investigative effort."

The special task force will be under the administration of Assistant Director Andrew J. Decker Jr. and Inspector James M. Powers, deputy assistant director, both of the FBI's Records Management Division.

"The project represents challenging problems in logistics for the FBI, including locating housing accommodations and office space for the field agents.

"We certainly support the right of the American people to know about our operations," Kelley said, "and I think also they are entitled to know how we are progressing in our FOIPA efforts and the costs and logistics involved."

Each task force of 200 agents will work six-day weeks, 10 hours a day, in 11-week cycles, Decker said. The first contingent will assemble May 2 at the FBI headquarters.

Food stamp recipients may get an earned income credit

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service and state welfare agencies are cooperating with the Internal Revenue Service in notifying food stamp recipients and other low-income workers that they may be eligible for a special payment from the federal government.

In order to receive this payment of up to $400, called the earned income credit, workers must file a 1976 federal income tax return. Many people eligible for the payment may not ordinarily have to file a tax return because their earnings are low. The deadline for filing is April 15.

To qualify for the credit, single persons or married couples must have less than $8,000 in total income, including wages, salaries, tips and other employe compensation, or self-employment income.

Additionally, single persons and married couples must have maintained a home in the United States for the entire year for themselves and at least one dependent child (under 19 years of age or a full-time student).

People who qualify for the credit and have earnings of $4,000 or less receive a credit of 10 per cent of their earned income, up to a maximum $400.

For instance, a family whose total income in 1976 was $3,450 in wages would receive a check for $345, or 10 per cent of the total income.

For food stamp recipients who qualify, USDA officials noted, this earned income credit will not affect food stamp eligibility, or raise the cost of the stamps.

However, officials said, the recipient who receives a regular tax refund, as well as an earned income credit, should remember to report the refund to his or her food stamp eligibility worker.

Individuals whose total income was between $4,000 and $8,000 also are entitled to the credit based on earned income. However, the $400 maximum credit is reduced by subtracting 10 per cent of any earned income over $4,000.

For example, a family with an adjusted gross income for 1976 of $6,000 would receive a $200 payment.

Ten per cent of the earned income in excess of $4,000 is 10 per cent of $2,000—or $200. The $200 is subtracted from the maximum credit of $400 and the family would receive a check for the difference, or $200.

Taxpayers who filed a return last year will find additional information and instructions for claiming the credit in their tax packages.

Persons who did not file last year can get necessary forms and instructions, as well as a free publication, Tax Benefits for Low-Income Individuals (Publication 596), from offices of the Internal Revenue Service.

State may ask newspapers to submit reports

A rule being considered by the State Board of Elections would require financial reports by all newspapers making political endorsements.

The Illinois Press Association rejects the board's theory that endorsements constitute campaign gifts.

The election board claims jurisdiction over gifts, loans, "anything of value," endorsements of candidates or groups, and editorial positions on questions of public policy. Most observers view such a broad board role as unconstitutional and a violation of speech and press freedom.

$675 GARAGE THEFT

Items totaling $675 in value were taken from a garage at the home of James V. Rushing, 1733 Ferguson Ave., it was reported at 7:50 p.m. Friday.

Taken were a table and four folding chairs worth $35, a tent $75, four sleeping bags $260, two mattresses $20, a lamp $25, tools $100, an axe $20, two tires $100, an extension cord $20, and an auto timing light $20.

Mary Lapinski queen at college

Miss Mary Lapinski of Granite City was crowned as St. Pat's Queen of Love and Beauty Friday night at the University of Missouri-Rolla.

Four members of her royal court also were honored. The queen was elected by members of the St. Pat's Board.

Madison tavern robbed

An armed robber accompanied by two women held up the Sportsman's Club, 1001 Iowa St., Madison, at 12:08 p.m. Sunday and fled with $54 cash and a .44 caliber magnum pistol.

The owner, Mrs. Shirley Kamadulski told police that as she was opening the tavern at noon she saw a car outside with three persons in it. She put the money in the cash register as the three entered.

She said two women remained in the background and the man held what she described as a small caliber pistol. The man said, "I want your money," moving toward the north end of the bar.

Mrs. Kamadulski moved also toward the north end of the bar when the gunman said, "Don't move any closer."

After taking the money and the gun which was under the bar, the trio reportedly fled east on 10th street in an old model red Chevrolet.

The man was described as six feet tall, weighing between 180 and 200 pounds and wearing a brown shirt and blue jeans.

3 injured in accident

Three men were injured when the car of Charles Howell, 40, of 1809 Ferguson Ave., and the van of Michael Moran, St. Louis, were involved in an accident at Nameoki and Johnson roads at 1:30 a.m. Friday.

Howell and two passengers in Moran's van were hurt and sought treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Howell injured his left knee and was released after x-rays were taken.

David Dodson, 21, St. Louis, suffered cuts to his right upper lip and below his nose which required sutures. He declined to be admitted.

John Bursey Jr., 22, St. Louis, the other van passenger, bumped his head on the windshield and suffered a head wound and a fracture to the third finger of his right hand. He was released after treatment.

Granite City Assessor Von Doe Cruse regards such a possibility as unfair, saying it is too much to ask property owners to bear in view of active efforts to set assessments at 33 1-3 per cent of actual value, the standard outlined in the Illinois law.

The state has authorized areas to move toward the one-third level in three equal annual steps.

Barton says some townships are far away from even that objective. He favors doing away with the setting of valuations at township assessor offices.

Contractor at AGC conclave

Gene Sternberg of G. G. Sternberg and Co., attended the Associated General Contractors of America convention this month in San Francisco. He serves as a national director from the Southern Illinois Builders Association and on the Industry Advancement Foundation and the Ethics Committee of the national organization.

AGC has over 8,000 general contractor member firms nationwide and SIBA is a chapter of AGC. SIBA had the highest membership gain of all chapters in 1976, and was awarded the AGC membership trophy.

The opening session was addressed by Paul Harvey, syndicated broadcaster. A debate was held between Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. (D-N. J.) and Senator Paul Laxalt (R-Nev.) on effects of common situs legislation.

Thompson who introduced a bill that would "legalize secondary boycotts," received a cold reception from the contractors as he gave his reasons. Standing applause was accorded Laxalt, who contended that the measure is "artificial respiration from Washington for construction groups that are pricing themselves out of the market through wages and restrictions on productivity."

Performance at scene of train tragedy justifies public confidence in new ambulance program and its skilled staff

Observers who are experienced in the health-medical field gave the new Granite City municipal ambulance service high marks for the way it handled a difficult first-day challenge — locating, aiding and transporting two youngsters struck by a freight train.

Equally impressive was the teamwork between city personnel dispatched to the scene. "It was the kind of performance that might have been expected after five years of joint effort, rather than one day," a witness commented.

Because of the severe nature of the occurrence, police officers and fire department officials joined emergency medical technicians at the scene. All present functioned as a team, performing specific assignments in the knowledge that others were handling other needed tasks.

Tragic injuries cannot wholly be avoided in the daily life of a community. But it is reassuring that the large and well-equipped emergency-rescue staff that began its duties March 16 was able to show such high competence. It went into action quickly, calmly and effectively while simultaneously cooperating with helpful friends, relatives and neighbors of the victims.

Newly-approved school will fill a big need in Madison

The decision by Governor James Thompson on Thursday afternoon to authorize a $1,976,164 state contribution for a new Madison "middle school" is a major boost for the Quad-City area.

It reflects high credit on the thoroughness and attitude of present state officials; the persistent and productive role of such legislators as State Senator Sam Vadalabene; and the painstaking planning and preparation of the Madison community unit school district.

The single-story school serving sixth, seventh and eighth grade students is to be located on a 12.27-acre site. The structure will contain 22 classrooms, an instructional material center, a cafeteria and kitchen, a gymnasium and administrative offices.

The new building will include the latest school design innovations and will provide the space needed to accommodate the student enrollment. The grades that it will serve will fit in well with assignment decisions made by the Madison schools in conjunction with the Illinois Office of Education.

Voters a year ago approved Madison school bonds that will provide the local portion of the construction cost of the nearly $3 million school. Their positive attitude toward the school system and its objectives now will be rewarded by an early start on the construction and by the subsequent occupancy of outstanding new facilities.

Many veterans of the Vietnam war still lack employment

It has been four years since the last American troops left South Vietnam. There were no victory parades when they came home. And the Vietnam-era veterans, many of them disabled for life, have returned to a job market that is severely depressed.

The rate of unemployment for Vietnam-era veterans is higher than the nation's overall unemployment rate. Those hardest hit are the disabled.

A program to find jobs for Vietnam-era veterans is being given high priority by the Carter administration. The program deserves wide support, not only by the government but also by private employers.

It provides, first, for a goal of 35 per cent of all new public service employment jobs under expanded federal programs to be filled by Vietnam veterans. But these jobs will be only temporary.

Permanent jobs can come from a program called HIRE, which enlists the help of the nation's larger corporations in making available private-sector job opportunities and training opportunities for Vietnam-era veterans. Labor unions are being urged to assist.

A network of "outreach" offices will be established in 100 cities to help disabled Vietnam-era veterans find jobs. The offices will be staffed by disabled Vietnam-era veterans in temporary, federally-funded jobs.

Permanent employment for the Vietnam veterans depends heavily on public recognition of the personal sacrifice they made in serving the nation in an unpopular war.

Many of the sons of affluent families escaped the draft through college and other deferments and are now holding good jobs.

Those who answered the call to duty—and especially those who suffered permanent disability—deserve more than gratitude. They deserve the opportunity to support themselves and their families through useful work.

COST QUESTIONED. This sign at 19th and Adams Streets and another at 19th and West 20th Streets tell of test boring that has started for the planned construction of a traffic overpass. The 19th Street structure over railroad tracks is to connect the Downtown and West Granite City areas. Daniel Partney, running for mayor against Mayor Paul Schuler, objects to the signs as unnecessary and as publicizing the mayor at city cost. He regards the signs as an injustice to taxpayers. Engineer Monroe Brewer said the wood is expected to cost about $30 and Street Superintendent Lionel Portell estimated that street workers devoted about $50 worth of time to the installation. The sign painter's bill has not yet been received, Brewer added. The wording follows: "Sorry for the inconvenience. Soil test boring equipment working ahead for Granite City overpass. Paul Schuler, mayor." (Press-Record Photo)

Altercation at restaurant

Allegations were being made today that a Granite City police detective caused a disturbance in the Pizza Hut Restaurant, 1533 Johnson Road, at 12:45 a.m. Saturday during which the officer and a customer were sprayed with mace.

A Pizza Hut security guard and a cook were taken into custody after the disturbance, and have been released without formal charges being filed, pending a review of the case by the Madison County state's attorney's office. The guard was kept overnight in jail by Granite City police.

A group of 14 persons were in the lobby of the police station at 9 a.m. today to speak with Lt. Col. George Tellor, who is acting as chief of police during Chief Ronald Veizer's recovery from a broken knee.

All 14 contended they were either customers or employes and witnessed the disturbance, which they alleged the detective started after becoming angry because he was refused service to purchase a pitcher of beer after the bar cutoff time at 12:30 a.m.

Tony Eck was sprayed in the face with mace by a security guard. A guard has been released on a $400 bond on a preliminary charge.

All the witnesses, including the security guard, agreed the guard sprayed the officer and contend the policeman provoked the incident.

Tony Eck says he was standing at the bar waiting while an assistant manager poured a pitcher of beer when a guard grabbed him around the neck.

Eck said he turned and started to fend off the guard, who was striking him with the blunt end of a flashlight.

When the guard produced a can of mace, Eck said he swung wildly to avoid being sprayed and a woman customer was sprayed in the face.

"I did not touch him until he grabbed me around the throat. Even then, I never swung a fist at him. I kept screaming, 'Call the cops,' and even told him I am a cop," Eck related.

Eck suffered bruises to his right thigh and wrist in the incident an his eyelids are blistered from the mace. He also was struck on the left knee with the flashlight, he said.

Police who responded to the distrubance call said they arrived to find Eck with a handcuff attached to his left wrist and his face and clothing covered with mace. Eck had the security guard and a cook in custody and asked police to take them to the police station.

Eck's official report contends the guard refused to have an employe call police, so he asked a patron to call the police.

Judine Bruch, 22, manager of the Collinsville Pizza Hut, who was among those in the lobby of the police station this morning, contended she witnessed the incident. She said a security guard tapped a man on the shoulder and he spun and struck the guard in the throat with an open hand.

She alleged a customer had been verbally harrassing an assistant manager for more than five minutes prior to the incident at the bar.

Charles Robinson, another cook who has not been accused of participating in the disturbance, said he watched the scuffle inside and then went outside with a man and a guard.

He said the man said he would calm down and, when those holding him loosened their grip, he pulled free and pulled out a service revolver.

The security guard warned those around to back away, saying, "He has a gun," but the man then handed the gun to a man who had been sitting with him as police cars arrived on the scene.

Eck said he was trying to keep the cook and guard from removing his gun from the holster, and was afraid the gun might accidentally be fired during the disturbance.

He contended that after his eyes had cleared from the mace enough to see the man he had been sitting with, Raymond Kidwell Sr. of Granite City, he took the gun out and gave it to him. Kidwell immediately removed the gun from the vicinity of the fight.

Kidwell and two relatives had been sitting with Eck for some time before the disturbance occurred.

Raymond Kidwell Jr. Said Eck had objected to not being served at 12:30, since the city's tavern closing ordinance sets a cutoff time of 1 a.m., but Kidwell said Eck had not become hostile or acted "out of line."

He contended an assistant manager, LuAnn Lear, agreed to serve him and Eck went to the bar to get glasses.

Kidwell said he then went to a restroom and when he returned outside, mace had been sprayed and one man was scuffling with two men.

"Kidwell said he and his father tried to get to Eck's gun to avoid it being taken by the security guard, and Eck finally got the gun out and gave it to the father.

A guard alleged that after he was placed in the rear seat of a squad car, an officer got in the front seat and shook a flashlight at him.

"I grabbed the light in the middle to keep him from striking me with it," Michael Patterson of Collinsville said. "The waitress who had originally told a man he could not have any more beer yelled at him not to hit me. Police officers restrained him.

"During the entire time of the incident, the individual continued to verbally assault me with threats of bodily harm," the security guard alleged.

Eck disagreed with the version, saying he only told the guard he could not smoke while in the squad car.

The guard alleged that after his arrest and posting of $400 bond, police refused to return his personal belongings to him, including his only car key.

Pizza Hut officials were meeting with Chief of Detectives Capt. Bill Condis this morning to attempt to retrieve those personal items, which were held as evidence, police said.

Voices praise for Madison students

To the Editor:

It is usually the custom in this country to applaud anyone who has managed to reach the top, especially so because of his indicated lowly beginning or indicated disadvantages.

I am aghast at a Champaign news writer's recent observations (about Madison when the team was competing for and winning the state Class A high school basketball championship).

Being a retired social worker from the Madison School District, all I can give out with is many hurrahs for each member of the Madison team and the coach for what they have currently achieved.

Knowing how much harder some of the team members have had to work than so many of the players they have to beat, I feel each deserves all the plaudits we can give.

Busy days, evenings for legislator

To the Editor:

Having been in the legislature for two months now, I believe that it is time to start accounting for my activity, to give you some observations of the legislature and the legislative process, and to comment on some important issues of the day.

There exists a tremendous temptation to view one's self in a different light than others see you. For that reason, I will describe my personal activity in Springfield only in this first letter and will hereafter confine my remarks to observations, issues and the processes of government.

One of the greatest honors you can bestow on someone is to elect that person to represent you in a legislative body. I felt that honor on Jan. 12 when I was sworn in.

There was an inner excitement that I have not felt since first landing a jet plane on an aircraft carrier in 1966.

However, the excitement soon gives way to the tremendous sense of responsibility you feel on an everyday basis as you deliberate and vote for the thousands of people in the district.

The only way to repay those who have placed a certain amount of trust in you is to work hard, be as informed as possible on issues, and vote conscienciously for legislation that will benefit the majority of the people.

While not in Springfield, I can usually be found in one of my two offices.

Currently, the legislature is in session Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday but the amount of time spent in Springfield increases as June 30 approaches.

On Wednesday of the March 7-11 week, I arrived at the State Office Building at 7:30, answered mail, read reports and talked to constituents until noon.

I spent three hours on the House floor hearing bills, attended a committee meeting and had time to write three letters, before being back on the House Floor at 6 p.m. where we debated our permanent rules until we adjourned at 11:45 p.m.

On Thursday I again arrived at 7:30, read reports, discussed pending bills with fellow legislators, went into session at 1:30, adjourned at 5 p.m. and arrived in Granite City at 7 p.m. to testify in favor of an expansion at St. Elizabeth Hospital. I attended a political action class sponsored by the Business and Professional Women at the YMCA and arrived home at 10 p.m.

They were long, but extremely interesting days. In the future, I won't bore you with these details but thought that they were somewhat appropriate for a beginning letter..

I will instead focus on issues heard in committee and debated on the floor. On March 10 we voted on the death penalty and in my next letter I will try to discuss this complex and highly emotional issue.

STEAL TOOLS, SAW

A tool box and $200 worth of tools and a $30 electric saw were stolen from the garage of Kermit White, 2400 Waterman Ave., between 10:30 a.m. and 7:10 p.m. Sunday. White said he left the overhead door to the garage open during the day because the electric door opener was malfunctioning.

Supervisor is dedicated to service

To the Editor:

I lived in Nameoki for seven years. During those seven years I came to know Louis Whitsell — and his family — not only as a township supervisor, but as a human being who cares for his people.

I sincerely believe that he is one of the few politicians we have left who has the ability, integrity and leadership that it will take to lead Nameoki Township to a bigger and better place to live.

During the winter of 1974 the roads were completely snowed in. He asked Mr. Bell to clean the streets off. I do not know what happened, but I do know that at 9 o'clock at night I looked out the window and it was not Al Bell who was on the snowplow.

It was Lou Whitsell himself cleaning our streets. He has never placed himself above the people. He is a good man, and if we vote for the people he has on his ticket, we will have a township that all will be proud to live in.

Last year, my husband was operated on and on my way home from the hospital I met Mr. and Mrs. Whitsell. The first thing he offered was, "If there is anything that you have need of in your home for you or your family, please let us assist you in anything that we can do."

This is what I call friendship and brotherly love, because when the need arose, I went to him and I found that it was not just talk. They even called Chicago to help my husband get his unemployment.

I realize that many township residents are wondering why he has Helen Hawkins on his ticket. I think a few that would criticize this should remember, religion teaches you to forgive and forget.

Two people who in the past were opposing each other took a good look at their own intentions, and I for one believe this was for the good of the township. They have done what everybody should do — forgive and forget.

They shook hands and acted to stand for justice and for the good of Nameoki Township. I admire Lou Whitsell and Helen Hawkins; it takes two mighty tall people to do what they have done.

Their differences were aired in the open, and joining their forces together to win the battle on April 5 is in the open.

So if anyone thinks that they are not right, Christian people should read the story in the Bible where it says that if you have aught against your brother or sister, first lay your gifts at the altar and then go and be reconciled, and then return with your gifts.

I believe they have done this. With the Continued Action Party, we will have a working force that can get many things done for the township.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins is a fighter. We have fought in the past together and at times against each other, but through it all, she is still a gal fighting for her people.

Lou I have seen standing alone many times. He's been rebuffed and talked about, but I have seen him stand with the patience of Job.

He stands mighty tall in my book, not only as a man but as a leader.

I hope the township elects people who are willing to cooperate so he will not be opposed on every issue that he brings up.

If people vote for him and his ticket, they will help to unite the bands that have been holding his hands, so that he can get done what needs to be done for Nameoki Township.

ALICE FELTON

Say aspirations are not political

To the Editor:

In these times it is difficult to attract high-caliber people to seek government office because of the disillusionment and general mistrust of the people for politicians in general.

When you do have capable men of integrity willing to serve their community without political aspirations or motives, it would seem that the public should support and encourage them in their participation in government.

United For Progress Party of Nameoki Township is a group composed of men highly respected in their community for their willingness to give of themselves. They are asking for Harold Davis as their leader and new supervisor to make their team complete.

Let's set an example for others to bring on more participation of the right kind of men in government affairs by supporting the whole United For Progress ticket.

We ask that all compare the candidates carefully and vote their convictions in the Nameoki Township election April 5.

Wants more stores and industries

To the Editor:

Look around Granite City and what do you see? If you see the same thing that I see, you see empty store buildings and factory closings.

Take another look at the city of Madison. They have got two or three factories to locate in their city in the last few years. What has our mayor done for our city?

In reference to the statement which the microfilm operator has made, I was glad to see one thing the mayor had done. It is the only thing he has ever done. I would like to retract that one statement. I believe I did see his picture in the paper where he cut a ribbon for a "grand opening" for a hamburger stand.

Let's get Granite going with Dan Partney. He is young, aggressive and full of energy, with new and exciting ideas for our city. I know that he can get the job done. He has business experience.

I was shocked when I read in the Press-Record where the mayor said he attracted the Archer-Daniels-Midland Plant here. They were here before he took the job. And just how did he get the Crossroads Shopping Center built and also how did he get National Steel to purchase General Steel Castings property?

Let's tell it like it is, Mr. Mayor.

C. B. WOODWARD
2410 Cleveland Blvd.

Cooperation achieving city progress

To the Editor:

I feel that Granite City is a good place to live, work and raise a family. I think that most Granite Cityans would also agree with this.

Yet, each election, we see a new group of politicians whose whole campaign revolves around what's wrong with Granite City instead of what they have to offer as candidates.

No city is ever perfect, nor will it ever be. But Granite City has made much progress during the past four years. Here are a few things I feel are right about Granite City.

The cooperation between Mayor Schuler and the present city council is a first in recent years. This cooperation has allowed a quick solution to the ambulance problem caused by Thomas' decision to withdraw its ambulance service. Citizens will have ambulance service.

Industry has been attracted into the city. Some examples are Archer-Daniel-Midland, K-Mart and the Crossroads Shopping Center. Yet, the council has been protecting the residential areas against intrusion of unwanted rezoning for commercial purposes.

To help solve our traffic problems, Johnson Road was completed and the Maryville Road project has begun.

Also, each ward in the city has had a certain allotment for street, curb and sidewalk improvements.

Let's give Mayor Schuler a well deserved thank you—and keep a good team working for us—April 5.

JOE SMITH
March 22, 1966
There is someone who misses you sadly,
And finds the time long since you went,
There is someone who thinks of you always,
And tries to be brave and content,
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear;
Tis sad, but true, we wonder why,
The best are always the first to die.

County, area history told

A history of Madison County, illustrated with photographs and maps, was presented by Mrs. Louise Lewis, Madison city librarian, during a classroom visitation to the sixth-grade class of Sara Veach at Louis Baer School, Madison.

Mrs. Lewis spoke about events that have taken place in the area and listed historical locations that students may visit in Illinois, including the County Museum in Edwardsville, the Wood River monument that marks the site of a massacre and Cahokia Mounds Park.

The classroom visit was arranged as part of the Volunteers in public schools project of the SIUE Teachers Corps program in Madison, designed to increase participation by the community in school events. It was arranged by Donna Woodward, staff member of the SIUE Teacher Corps program in Madison.

Shrine circus contracts signed

Chairman C. A. "Jack" Dempsey, chief rabban of Ainad Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, has signed contracts for this year's Southern Illinois Shrine circus.

Belle-Clair Fairgrounds in Belleville and the Tri-City Speedway, Granite City, will be the scenes of the two shows.

The kickoff parade in downtown Belleville will be on June 3 at 8 p.m. On June 4, 5 and 6, there will be shows at the fairgrounds, with two on June 4, three on June 5 and one on June 6.

The Shrine units and other groups then will parade in Granite City on June 7, with the circus playing at the Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Nameoki Road, on Wednesday, June 8, Thursday, June 9, and Friday, June 10.

Assistant Rabban R. H. "Dick" Ervay has been chosen as co-chairman of this year's circus production and has promised a great turnover in the acts compared to past programs.

With some imported groups that will be new to this area, plus flying acts, new animal acts and other types of entertainment, Ervay vows that it will be "the greatest show that has ever hit this part of the Midwest."

Thirty-eight Shrine clubs will participate in the circus this year. They cover all of Southern Illinois, and are a major part of Ainad Temple, which has 8,400 nobles on its membership rolls.

Ainad sent 229 children to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in 1976. The 229 are all from Southern Illinois.

"Our nobles are constantly looking for the child for us to help," Dempsey says. "The total hospital budget this year is $37 million — for 19 orthopedic hospitals and three burns centers.

"The extra money Ainad sent last year to the St. Louis unit was over $220,000, and we are also helping 48 children travel back and forth to the Burns Institute in Cincinnati, Ohio."

Potentate Ralph E. Green said he hopes "the many circus-goers in the past will be back with us this year to help swell the crowd of children and others who are sent to the Circus by circus dads helping the less fortunate.

"More than 17,000 attended last year on circus Dads tickets. "There is also a session for blind people of this region. They are given earphones and the acts are explained by Past Potentate Bob Hardy over a wire system."

Consciousness raising workshop

Consciousness raising is being offered to women of the Madison County area by the Metro-East NOW (National Organization for Women) chapter of Edwardsville.

Consciousness raising helps women become aware of themselves and the role in which they are cast by society and our culture, a chapter officer said.

A demonstration CR will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave. The demonstration is free and open to all women in the area.

Working women, women in education, homemakers, married and unmarried women are invited.

On April 12, a 10-week session in consciousness raising will begin for women who have participated in the demonstration.

The National Organization for Women encourages all women to raise their consciousness for enhancement of their lives.

Arrest in shooting case

Richard "Rick" McCallister, 25, of 2000 block of Bryan Ave., was charged Thursday with aggravated battery in the shooting early that day of Don Gisher, 26, Freeburg. Bond was set at $25,000 and he later was released.

The shooting occurred at 18th and State Streets. McCallister told the Press-Record he saw a revolver beneath the jacket of an assailant and that he was threatened several times.

When a man approached his car, grabbed a door and said "I'm going to kill you," McCallister got out and fired twice at the man, he said. He recalled later pointing a gun at another individual to assure that the second man did not harm him.

Gisher is in satisfactory condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital with two bullet wounds to the abdomen. He advised authorities that he received a threatening telephone call at 5 p.m. Friday.

An apartment owner on Bryan Avenue said a tenant who moved there Feb. 20 is moving this week to Washington Avenue.
